Georgia's Gold Mines.

From the Atlanta Constitution It is certain that few people have any idea of the amount of gold that is dug out of the north Georgia hills and shipped to Atlanta every month. Some day ago we published a news note in which we stated that Messra, James R. Wylie & Co., of this city, received about three thousand dollars a month in gold dust from that region. We learn that Messrs. Moore, Marsh & Co. receive double as much, and that others receive fully that accepted an ormistice of two months and or-dered its army communitation to suspend hos-stream from the rich mountains into our avored city. There are single mills Dahlonera that get out -ix thousand dol-lars worth of gold per month. We do not believe that less than thirty thou-sand dollars worth of gold per month reaches Atlanta from north Georgia, possibly fifty thousand dollars. Around Dahlonega there is a perfect nest of mills, The Hand gold mining company are run ning at present twenty stamp mills, the Benning mine ten stamp mills, the Law-rence mine five stamp mills, the Findley mine twenty-nine stamp mills, the Hur-mine five stamp mills. Then we have sixty-four stamp mills working within less than two miles of Dahlonega. Mr. Besides these, there are several mines i White county being worked successfully There are others in Hall county doing to maintain the peace of Europe, we shall there is a perfect swarm of vein workers instead of the ore. They simply wash the sand and dirt in huge shaking troughs, and gather the gold specks with quick-silver, which gathers every parti-cle of the metal into an amalgam. These operations need no mills, but bring a very large amount of dust into market. Among others of the rich mines are notably the Ballarield, the Glade, the old Findley, the Versey and the Jones There are scores of these veins or deposit mines. The little boys in and about Dah onega spend their leisure hours in sift ing the loose soil in a panful of water and make thirty to seventy-five cents : solid nugget of gold as large as the first joint of your little finger that was picked up by the street-workers in Dahlonego as they were grading the public road. Train. It is the impression of prominent post office officials that the commission provided for by congress to investigate subject of railway mail transportation will take strong grounds in their coming report in favor of the re-establishment of fast mail trains, and will support their recommendation by the best dence of their necessity. The business men of the country, especially those of the south and west, urge their re-establishment, and it is quite possible that congress will renew the This cannot be done unless the claim for increased compensation is conceded, when he has no doubt every facility is promised by the railroad

CONTRARY to the biblical law there are now in the west a man, Marien Teralbia Baker, and man. woman, Helen M. Spaudling, who have been joined together and put asunder and joined together three They were married at Knoxville, III., in 1865, divorced in the following year, married in 1867, divorced in 1873, married in 1874, and are now again divorced at Galesberg, Ill. The iw is too lax in such matters; the caterdary curve between wedded happiness and single blessedness is too great; it is better for two lovers to take conic sections and be like the two lines that approach orever and never meet. The Baker case is too bewildering.
